Who we are

Federation of Asian Biotech Associations (FABA), established in 2004, is a non-profit organization registered under the Indian Societies Act, 1860. It is created to provide a global platform for the development of biotechnology across the globe, particularly in Asian countries.

Our Mission

The mission of FABA is to promote innovation and entrepreneurship in the biotech industry, academia, and healthcare sector. The aims & objectives are to promote & safeguard the overall interests of Biotechnology, to provide a common platform for the academy, industry, and government bodies in Asia to come together and interact & to lead study and business teams to the member countries for promoting academic & industrial collaborations.

Our Purpose

For more than 15 years, FABA has been fostering collaboration between academia, industry, and government, thus promoting investments in biotechnology and related fields. FABA also facilitates cross-border trade in terms of export, outsourcing of services, products, and other related activities. FABA sponsors study and business teams in member countries and invites individuals, experts, scientists, and similar delegations from member countries and across the world.

FABA promotes and safeguards the overall interests of Biotechnology as science, profession, industry, or trade by coordinating with research professionals, entrepreneurs, industries, and academic institutions in various Asian Countries. FABA promotes collaboration between academia and industries engaged in Biotechnology among the member countries in Asia.
